Oil & Gas West Asia

6th Oil, Gas, Refining and Petrochemicals Exhibition and Conference

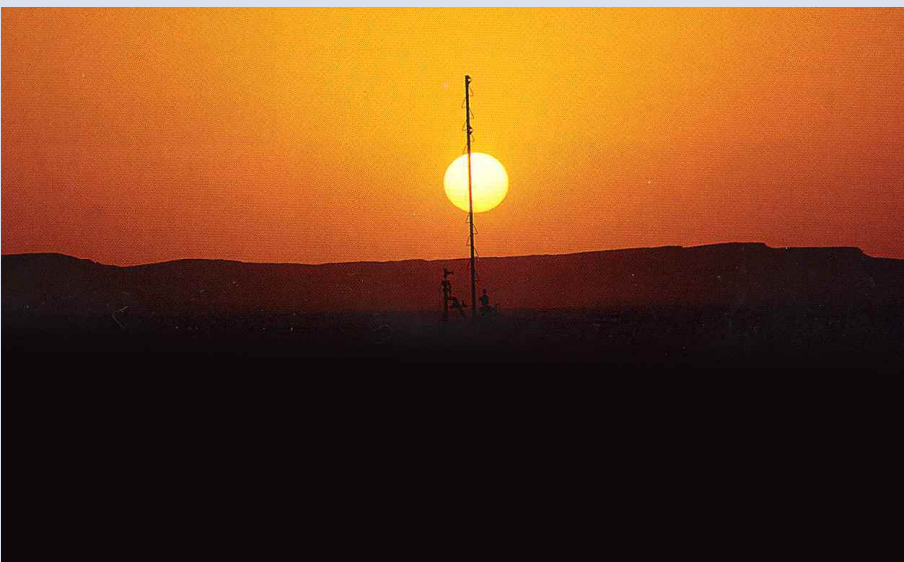

APRIL 21-23, 2008, MUSCAT, SULTANATE OF OMAN

THE REGION'S ESTABLISHED ENERGY SHOWCASE

OIL EXPLORATION BOOMS

Oil exploration in the Sultanate of Oman has shifted into high gear, following the recent signing of exploration and production sharing agreements with a large number of international oil & gas firms. The entire Sultanate is now subject to some form of exploration activity, apart from two remaining blocks.

Extensive efforts to boost oil production in Oman are also underway, with the implementation of various enhanced oil recovery (EOR) techniques in many mature fields including Mukhaizna and Harweel. To enable it to focus on its portfolio of large fields, which account for over 80% of Oman's total oil production, Petroleum Development Oman (PDO) has recently signed agreements with other companies for the development of its clusters of small fields.

All these developments are fuelling substantial demand for the entire range of oilfield supplies and services, making OGWA 2008 an ideal venue to showcase what your company can offer to the Sultanate's oil & gas industry.

GAS PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION RISE RAPIDLY

The Sultanate of Oman has emerged as a major international exporter and consumer of natural gas. Extensive gas exploration is in progress in many parts of the country, while production is continuously posting unprecedented growth. Consider the following :

- The Sultanate's natural gas production soared by 28.2 percent during the first half of 2006, compared to the same period last year.
- Total gas production reached 498,957 million cubic feet from January to June 2006.
- Oman currently exports up to 9 million tons of LNG to many countries including South Korea and Japan.
- Gas supplies from Petroleum Development Oman rose to over 43 million cubic meters per day in 2005.

With the establishment of major industrial areas such as the Salalah Free Zone and Sohar Industrial Port, Omani gas demand and consumption will increase considerably in coming years. There are strong prospects for growth in this area: OGWA 2008 will provide the perfect opportunity to present products, services, and equipment for gas-based industries.

THE OGWA CONFERENCE 2008 : CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

To be held parallel to the exhibition, the OGWA Conference 2008 will bring together industry professionals for a thorough discussion of the major issues and challenges currently facing the region's oil & gas industry.

At every show, the OGWA Conference explores the business opportunities in the region as well as the strategies currently being implemented to substantially boost production. In 2008, an impressive line up of high-profile speakers will deliver presentations related to upstream and downstream operations, with particular focus on energy realities in the Middle East.

To ensure the quality of the presentations, the forum's Conference Committee is made up of experts from Oman's Ministry of Oil and Gas, Petroleum Development Oman (PDO), Oman LNG, the Oman Society for Petroleum Services (OPAL), and leading oil & gas companies.

Major Speakers in 2006 include:
John Malcolm, MD, PDO,
Ibrahim Al Ansari, Exec VP, Dolphin Energy,
Glenn Valogen, President, OXY

Join us in 2008!

- Display new projects and accomplishments
- Identify new buyers and establish effective supply channels

ATTRACTING THE RIGHT AUDIENCE

OGWA 2008 will be a major gathering of national oil & gas companies in the GCC, international firms, equipment suppliers, service providers, and industry professionals.

Visitor Marketing Campaign

An extensive and well-planned promotional campaign will include press activities, supported by broad editorial coverage in local as well as regional newspapers and industry journals. A direct mail and outdoor media campaign will further strengthen promotional activities. Full event information will also be widely disseminated to attract high-profile visitors, the key players and decision makers from the region's oil & gas industry.

"Oilman's Lunch"

This complimentary lunch offers exhibitors and visitors the opportunity to exchange ideas, renew acquaintance, or discuss business -- as they enjoy a three-course meal right inside the exhibition hall. A highly popular part of OGWA since 2002, the Oilman's Lunch helps ensure that top executives and other visitors will stay at the show for much longer, paving the way for more productive stand visits and networking sessions.

“How OGWA KEEPS GROWING”

“Participating in OGWA was an easy decision for us because we are fully aware of the exciting developments currently taking place in Oman's oil and gas industry. We received serious enquires during OGWA 2006.”

S Vaideeshwaran
Asst Manager -
International Heavy Equipments

“Very good arrangements in the exhibition and conference! OGWA has shown us the fruitful way to promote our products in the Middle East region and to further develop business prospects.”

K. Prabhudevappa
General Manager
Good Earth Chemicals Pvt. Ltd.

“Overall, OGWA was a unique platform to register our presence as well as to look for a local agent.”

Khalid Al Jabir
Deputy General Manager
The Saudi Shoe Co. Ltd.

“I would like to express my deepest thanks for your well organized exhibition and the efforts you did to make it work.”

Adil Al-Nofali
Community Affairs officer
Oman Refinery Company

THE VENUE

Established in 1985, the Oman International Exhibition Centre (OIEC) is the ideal venue for major trade fairs and exhibitions in the Sultanate of Oman. It offers 12,000 square meters of indoor exhibition space with enough parking space for over 2,500 vehicles. It is conveniently located near Seeb International Airport and is just a short ride away from the city centre of Muscat.

THE ORGANISERS

Omanexpo LLC has over 20 years of experience as an exhibition organizer and event management company. In addition to Oil & Gas West Asia, the company's major exhibitions include Food Expo, Motor Show, Interiors & Buildex, Women Expo, the Eid Festival, and GCC Water, Power & Energy. We are guided by our corporate mission, which is
"to help you make your business grow."
